BAYSIDE PRECINCT 9

HOMICIDE DIVISION

INTERNAL MEMO

TO: All Available Detectives
FROM: Chief Inspector
DATE: October 1, 1989
SUBJECT: Precinct Standard Operating Procedure

Listen up, detectives. We have 130 unsolved cold cases stacking up on my desk that require immediate attention. Each file contains reports from four different crime scenes. Buried in the reports, you will find six pieces of evidence and six suspects.

Your objective is to process the scenes and determine the exact details: the victim, the weapon, the killer, and the location of the crime. Once the primary case is closed, you have two secondary objectives.

[1] SCOUR THE SCENES

Review the four grids carefully. Locate all six pieces of evidence and all six suspects. Note that every suspect is hiding in two different scenes. Find them all and cross them off the hard copy.

[2] SPOT THE WEAPON

Examine your evidence log. Exactly one item will appear in two different scenes instead of just one. That repeated object is your murder weapon. Bag it and tag it.

[3] CORNER THE KILLER

Once you have identified the weapon, check the two specific scenes where it was found. Cross-reference your suspect list. Only one suspect will be present in both of those specific locations. That suspect is your killer.

[4] DECODE THE VICTIM

You will notice some letters circled by forensics. Ignore any circles that fall inside the words you have already crossed off. Take the remaining circled letters and unscramble them. That anagram will spell out the name of the victim.

[5] PIN THE LOCATION

We know who the victim is, but we need to know where it happened. Take the decoded victim's name and search for it inside the grids. The scene where the victim's name appears is the exact location where the crime took place.

[6] EXTRACT THE CORONER'S CIPHER

We suspect twenty-two of these cases are connected. Turn to the EVIDENCE VAULT at the back of this dossier. The Coroner has left a log requiring you to extract specific letters from specific victims' names to decode a final warning. (e.g., If the log asks for Letter 3 of a victim named KIRSTY, extract the letter "R"). Keep track of these letters as you close cases.

[7] IDENTIFY THE CULT CLASSIC

Every case file perfectly mirrors the M.O. of a famous slasher or cult classic horror film. At the bottom of every page is a blank line. Test your horror knowledge and write in the movie you believe inspired the crime scene.

[8] VERIFY YOUR FINDINGS

To prevent evidence tampering, the master answer key is not printed in this book. To check your movie guesses, or if you need the grid solutions, access the secure digital precinct archives over at bobvhayes.com.

WORK THE STEPS IN ORDER. THE EVIDENCE NEVER LIES.

Grab a coffee and get to work. We have cases to close.

BAYSIDE PRECINCT 9 • EVIDENCE VAULT & MORGUE

ATTENTION DETECTIVE:

If you are reading this, you have processed all 130 crime scenes. I have finished the autopsies, and the brass is trying to bury my findings. There is a pattern. Twenty-two of these cases are connected by a single, precinct-wide threat.

I have left a partial extraction log below. Pull the files for these 22 specific cases. Look at the VICTIM name you decoded for each one. Find the specific letter I have requested and write it in the final column.

When you have all 22 letters, write them in order at the bottom of this page. You need to know what we are really dealing with out here. Trust no one.
